

CONGRESS AT SEA ON LEGISLATION ON SOLDIERS' BONUS

UNDECIDED BETWEEN ADOPTING A SALES TAX OR ABANDONING CASH PAYMENTS

PRESIDENT ADVOCATES SALES TAX OR POSTPONING ACTION —TEXT OF LETTER

(By United Press.)

"The bonus bill will be signed by the house ways and means committee in ten days," Representative Fordney emphatically declared to the house. There were democratic shouts of "No" and some applause from the republican side.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Congress was torn today between legalizing a sales tax to pay a soldier bonus or dropping the cash bonus altogether and substituting paid up insurance or land grants. This was the situation resulting from President Harding's letter on adopting the sales tax and offering no alternative.

The house ways and means committee is sounding sentiment. There was virtually no talk on postponement, but just how congress would put through a payment plan was as much a mystery as when that body threw up its hands and sought the president. It is conceded by many that the sales tax will have hard sledding.

Senator McCumber, of the senate finance committee, an irrevocable foe of the bonus bill, is in a hard situation. Farmers are asking him not to vote for the sales tax.

Senator Calder, of New York, formerly pro-bonus, has altered his position and is now in favor of paid insurance.

Text of Harding's Letter

The text of the president's letter which was addressed to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee, follows:

"In accordance with the promise made to yourself and your assistants on the senate and house committees, charged with the responsibility of formulating proposed bonus legislation, I have carefully looked into the program of taxation, which has been suggested. In addition thereto, I have made inquiry into the feasibility of issuing either short time treasury notes or long time bonds to meet the financial obligations which the proposed legislation will impose. It is not possible to commend to you either of the plans suggested.

Suggests Sales Tax.

"It continues to be my best judgment that any compensation legislation enacted at this time ought to carry with it the provisions for raising the needed revenues, and I find myself unable to suggest any commendable plan other than that of a general sales tax. Such a tax will distribute the cost of rewarding the former service men in such a manner that it will be borne by all the people whom they served, and does not commit the government to class imposition of taxes or the resumption of the burdens recently repealed, the maintenance of which can be justified only by a great war emergency.

"It is fully realized how great is the difficulty which confronts the congress in solving this difficult problem. I am aware of the strong sentiment in congress in favor of this adjusted compensation. I have spoken approvingly myself, always with the reservation that the bestowal shall be made when it may be done without such injury to the country as will nullify the benefits to the former service men themselves which this expression of gratitude is designed to bestow.

Opposes Piecemeal Plan.

"It is not an agreeable thing to suggest that action be postponed again, but frankly, I do not find myself favorable to the piecemeal payment plan, which is manifestly designed to avoid embarrassment to the treasury the long drawn out payments will not afford an effective helpfulness to the service men.

"We have no serious problem in beginning the allotments of public lands and the immediate issue of paid up insurance. The real difficulty lies in the payment of the cash bonus. Rather than provide that the maximum cash payments shall extend over a period of 2½ years, it would be vastly better bestowal if we could await the day when we may safely undertake to pay

'Three Gun' Bandit, 17, Confesses to 200 Holdups, Robberies

Chicago, Feb. 17.—"Three Gun" Herman Allen, a 17 years old Negro boy, sat in the Hyde Park police station yesterday and amazed hardened criminal chasers with the story of how he had obtained more than $100,000 in 200 burglaries and holdups in three cities. With perfect candor he told the detectives he was "the king of boy burglars" and admitted he was a "bad man."

Allen was arrested while trying to make away with a stolen automobile. He carried a .45 caliber pistol in each hip pocket and another slung under his arm. His pockets were filled with pawn tickets and he led his captors to a flat filled with stolen goods.

The police quoted him as saying he had committed several burglaries in New York and was wanted by Detroit police for a shooting affair.

Explaining the three pistols, Allen said he once tried to rob a house unarmed, but that a bulldog frustrated his attempt and that as a result he had to steal an automobile and sell it for $1.10 to get money for breakfast. "The next time I got some money I bought these three protectors and I'm sure rough on bulldogs now," he said.

3,203 Further Cut in the U. S. Rhine Force Made

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—An immediate further reduction of 203 officers and 3,000 men in the American forces in Germany was announced yesterday by the war department. There will remain in Germany after this reduction a total of 169 officers and 2,217 men.

at once in full, so that the award may be turned to real advantage.

Short Time Notes Impossible.

"Inasmuch as the treasury is to be called upon to meet more than $6,000,000,000 of maturing obligations in the sixteen months immediately before us, it is not possible to recommend the issue of several hundred millions of additional short time notes. Further excessive borrowings would likely undo all that has been accomplished in readjusting interest rates and stabilizing the financial world, both vitally essential to the resumption of industrial and commercial activities.

"Granting that it is not fair to oppose any proposed plan without offering a substitute, let me repeat that I believe the American people will accept the levy of a general sales tax to meet the proposed bonus payments and we should contribute thereby no added difficulties to the problems of readjustment. If congress will not adopt such a plan, it would be wise to let the legislation go over until there is a situation which will justify the large outlay.

Nation Working for Economies

"We are driving for large economies, we are pushing the disposition of surplus war property and have other transactions under consideration which ought to prove a great relief to the federal treasury. It is not consistent to enact legislation in anticipation of these things, but it would be a prudent plan to await the developments, and I can see in such a postponement, no lack of regard for the service men in whom all the American people are genuine interested.

Cites Care of War Crippled

"I take it that the former service men themselves are no less concerned than others about the restoration of business and the return to abundant employment. Those of their wounded or sick comrades, who were impaired by their war service, are being cared for with the most liberal generosity the nation can bestow. There are here and there exceptional cases of neglect and attending complaint, but we are seeking them out and correcting with all possible speed. It has not been possible to meet all the demands for special hospitalization but we are building to that end, without counting the cost. We are expending $400,000,000 a year in compensation, hospitalization and rehabilitation. These things are recited to reassure you that such delay as will enable congress to act in prudence for the common good will have no suggestion of unmindfulness or ingratitude."

Legion Declines to Drop Cash Bonus.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Representatives of the American Legion refused to accept President Harding's veiled suggestion that a cash bonus may be dropped. The American Legion still favors the four fold plan, spokesmen for the ex-service men told the house.

WEALTHY HEIRESS WILL WED SWISS RIDING MASTER

ENGAGEMENT OF MATHILDA McCORMICK, 16, ANNOUNCED TO MAX OSER, AGED 48

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 17.—"Mr. Harold F. McCormick is still in his suite here and refuses to comment on this delicate matter."

That was the statement made at the Plaza hotel today after Chicago advices said McCormick was on a train speeding westward, following the reported engagement of 16 year Mathilda McCormick, heiress to the Rockefeller millions, to Max Oser, age 48, a Swiss riding master.

Mr. McCormick and daughter Muriel came here for the opening of the New York season of the Chicago Grand Opera company, which is largely financed by the millionaire.

From Chicago it was reported Mathilda was alleged to be engaged to the Swiss groom who is more than twice her age and that Mr. McCormick and Muriel were speeding to Chicago.

Mathilda arrived in Chicago last night and said she had the approval of her father. When an interview was sought this morning she was still in bed.

40 PER CENT FARM WAGE CUT SHOWN

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE DATA CITES REDUCTION IN NORTHWEST STATES

Washington, Feb. 17.—Wages of farm laborers declined 40 per cent in 1921 in the north central states west of the Mississippi which include Minnesota and the Dakotas, according to data recently compiled by the department of agriculture.

In the United States as a whole farm wage rates dropped approximately 37 per cent, reaching an average of $43.32 per month without board and $30.14 with board. The farmers who paid these wages, however, did not profit by the drop in wages, says the department. The price of the things they produced and sold also declined in about the same proportion. The average value of crops has been estimated to have dropped about 37 per cent in 1921, and livestock prices also were much lower.

The department says that, so far as the farm laborer was concerned, the 37 per cent decline in his wages was in large part compensated for by the reduced wholesale prices of the food consumed by his family. The laborer generally buys most of his supplies from his employer at wholesale rates rather than from a retail store. The department refers to statistics of the department of labor showing a 27 per cent decline in retail food prices during 1921, while the general decline in wholesale prices is frequently estimated as 40 per cent on the average.

Day laborers in harvest time during 1921 received $2.79 per day without board and $2.24 per day with board, the report shows. Outside of harvest time the sum of $2.22 per day without board was paid and $1.98 with board. This does not include supplementary allowances such as milk, cow pasture, firewood, and the like.

The 40 per cent decline in wages of farm laborers was for those who are employed the year round on the monthly basis.

There were some sections of the country where the decrease in wages was not so great. It was as low as 33 per cent in the south and in the north central states east of the Mississippi. In the North Atlantic states it was 27 per cent. Smaller declines were in the industrial regions.

Farm wages, the department of agriculture says, still were much higher in 1921 than those of 1913, the year before the World war. For the country at large the increase over 1913 was from 41 per cent by the month with board to 48 per cent for day labor outside of harvest time without board. Part of this gain might have come to farm wages had there been no war, the department says, since the records extending back to 1866 show a tendency for farm wage rates to rise from year to year.

MINNEAPOLIS YEGGS ARE GROWING BOLDER

(By United Press.)

Minneapolis, Feb. 17.—Minneapolis yeggmen are growing bolder. They tried to carry a two ton safe from the Kelly Transfer company. It would not go through the door and they tried to open it with a sledge. Patrolman Arthur Adam was attracted by the noise and the yeggs fled when he approached. He fired several shots at them, but did not hit the mark.

5,000 U. S. TROOPS ON MEXICAN BORDER

TO GUARD AGAINST VIOLATION OF U. S. TERRITORY BY THE REVOLUTIONISTS

(By United Press.)

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 17.—Five thousand American troops in this borderland have been called to guard American territory against violation following persistent reports that revolutionists are preparing for action in Mexico. Brigadier General R. L. Howze declared the American forces had been forced to take heed of the revolutionists. Rebels at Chihuahua City have united and are marching on Juarez, reports said.

General J. J. Mendez, commanding federal troops at Juarez, sent word to the revolutionists declining to join them. He is preparing his garrison against attack.

Estaban Cantu, former governor of Lower California under Carranza, is said to be one of the leaders and probably principal revolutionary commander.

Protect U. S. Citizens.

Washington, Feb. 17.—American forces on the Mexican border have taken every precaution to protect all American citizens from injury in possible clashes between American and Mexican revolutionary forces.

DEMOCRATS PLAN REVENGE FOR KILLING LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Feb. 17.—Democratic senators have set in motion a plan for revenge because of the killing of the League of Nations. This is brought out in these two points:

1. Adoption of the Hitchcock resolution requesting more information from President Harding on the negotiation of the four-power Pacific treaty. This resolution has been adopted by the senate.
2. Forcing an admission from administration leaders that the four-power treaty involves the United States the same as Article X of the covenant.

2 BILLION DOLLARS IS STOLEN YEARLY

FROM POCKETS OF AMERICANS BY CONFIDENCE MEN AND FRAUD- ULENT HOUSES

(By United Press.)

New York, Feb. 17.—From $500,000,000 to two billion dollars is stolen from the pockets of the American people by confidence men and fraudulent brokerage houses, it has been estimated, and is indicated by reports from the federal trade board and investment brokers association.

A fever of speculation has developed as shown by the developments of the past few weeks. Nineteen operators have been indicted in Chicago for running bucket shops and more will follow. Several brokerage houses and branches in many cities have failed.

In Chicago the authorities have uncovered a "swindle trust," which took thousands from investors on a promise of paying 100 per cent.

The latest turn in events is at New York where the Consolidated Stock Exchange seeks the expulsion of R. H. McMasters and company on the charge of bucketing.

MRS. OBENCHAIN WINS FIRST POINT IN FIGHT FOR FREEDOM

JUDGE DECIDES LONG CHAIN OF EVIDENCE USED IN BURCH CASE NOT ADMISSIBLE

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, Feb. 17.—Maelynne Obenchain has won the first point in her legal fight for freedom from the charge of murdering J. Belton Kennedy at "Beverly Glen."

Judge Sidney Reeves' decision that the long chain of circumstantial evidence cannot be used to connect her with the tragedy is regarded as a victory for the beautiful woman.

Chief Counsel Judd Rush, leading lawyer in her defense, was frankly elated over the decision made. He explained that the peculiar actions of Burch, his subsequent statements, etc., would not be used against her.

"The case is complete," A. B. Keyes, directing the prosecution, declared. He pointed to the jury the portrait of Maelynne Obenchain as the prize beauty of Northwestern University, a veritable Lorelei, who lured young Kennedy in a murder trap, where Burch, alleged platonic friend, shot him from ambush.

Greater crowds are packing the court room to see the defendant Maelynne, now reduced to only a shell of her former beauty.

WORLD TERRORIST PLOT HELD NIPPED

CAPTIVES TRAPPED IN LOS ANGELES AFTER ALLEGED ATTEMPT AT $25,000 EXTORTION

Los Angeles, Feb. 17.—A terrorist program of international scope may be revealed through the arrest here of eight alleged members of a band of extortionists, it was said today by federal and other officers who participated in the arrests.

Three men arrested recently in widely separated American cities are believed to have had in their possession "unmistakable evidence" of affiliation with the men taken into custody here, it was said.

These three men were arrested in Salt Lake City, Des Moines and Cleveland, officers said, and further declared clock bombs and duplicate written instructions were found on all three.

The eight men caught here were trapped by federal agents, sheriff deputies and private detectives after an alleged attempt to extort $25,000 from a prominent Los Angeles business under threats of death and after, it was charged, they had obtained large sums from other men through similar methods.

Names of the men involved, as well as names of the officers working on the case, are withheld by the authorities for fear vengeance will be exacted by friends of the men under arrest.

The writer was "generous" He offered the farmer one-third of the fortune for his assistance. The letter was turned over to the federal authorities. The letter carries about the same contents as one written from Madrid, Spain, to a Chisholm banker.

FATHER DELORME EXPECTS TO PROVE ALIBI AT HEARING

DECLARES INNOCENCE OF MURDER OF HIS BROTHER—POLICE RECEIVE "CONFESSIONS"

(By United Press.)

Montreal, Feb. 17.—Several "confessions" to the murder of Raoul Delorme—for whose murder Father Adelard Delorme, his half-brother, is held in jail here—were received by police in the mail today. The letters containing the "confessions" were unsigned. Their contents ridiculed the police for arresting Father Delorme, charged them with hounding the priest.

Father Delorme is in the Bordeaux jail, busy among his books and papers, and confident he will be cleared of the charge. Raoul Delorme's body was found with six bullets in his head, along a lonely country road, where it had been thrown from a car. The motive, it is alleged, was to inherit the estate and $25,000 life insurance of the dead man.

The priest believes the real slayer may come forward. All the evidence against him is circumstantial and at the Feb. 21 hearing the priest expects to prove an alibi. The anonymous letters have been sent to Ottawa for comparison with writings of persons there.

FARMER'S RELIEF IS IN POLITICS

ON THIS THEORY A FARMERS NATIONAL ORGANIZATION IS BUILT AROUND A "FARM BLOC"

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Feb. 17.—A national farmers organization built around a "farm bloc" is in process of organization today. The farmers' belief is that the only relief is in politics. Grain leaders of the nation have been summoned to a conference by Benjamin C. Marsh, managing director of the Farmers National Council and they have been arriving in the city today.

There will be no attempt to form a new political party. The farmers will be formed in units to take action at the polls for or against certain congressional candidates. Only conservative farmers, it is said, will be in charge of the agrarian program.

The Nonpartisan League, American Farm Bureau and the United Grain Growers will be prominent in the conference to be held tomorrow.

On Monday leaders will attempt to bring about a political coalition. No radical plans will emanate from the farmers' conference. The development will be on lines already attempted by conservative farmers. There is no immediate relief from present conditions, farmers said, but they ultimately expect results by proceeding in the method outlined.

Ford and Dodge Brothers Head List of Motor Car Manufacturers
For 1921

Present reports indicate that no changes occurred last year in the positions of the two leading automobile manufacturers, considering the total production of cars. As was the case in 1920, Ford ranked first and Dodge Brothers second.

The total number of passenger cars built during the year, according to an estimate published recently by the Wall Street Journal, was 1,535,000, as compared with 1,883,150 for 1920.

Commencing on the general condition of the automotive industry, just prior to the close of the year, the Boston News Bureau published the following, which was subsequently confirmed by Dodge Brothers:

"Because it is privately owned, relatively little in the way of figures ever appears in print concerning the activity of the Dodge Brother motor organization of Detroit. Consequently its splendid and emphatic expansion in production this year and the maintenance even in recent weeks of a high output, which makes it one of the conspicuous bright spots of that industry, are not generally known outside of the trade.

"Dodge Brothers in the third quarter of this year ranked next to Ford among the world's automobile producers, with a monthly shipment record of better than 11,000 cars. This average is nearly maintained—within several hundred cars—in October, an unusual achievement in this year of unsettlement and competition in the motor industry.

"Considering that production the first quarter of the year was down to 3,000 cars, less than one-eleventh of the same quarter in 1920, and less than any single month's subsequent production, that vitality that is Dodge Brothers is apparent. The company should end the year with a final output of between 91,000 and 92,000 cars and probably hold its position as the leader of the industry next to Ford.

It is understood that Dodge Brothers finished the year with a total production of 92,476 cars, which is over 12,000 cars greater production than the next nearest competitor, not including Ford, thereby making good the News Bureau's prediction of Dodge Brothers continued leadership.

WHITTIER PARENT-TEACHERS

Two Vital Problems Before Mothers, Study and Discipline of Herself
and Her Child

The following paper, written by Mrs.
Bernard Druck, former president and also chairman of the Educational committee of the General Council of Mothers' clubs and Parent-Teachers' association of St. Paul, was read Tuesday at the Whittier Parent-Teachers' association by Mrs. Knutson:

What Constitutes a Good Mother

In attempting to write this paper,
I soon realized that the more I thought of the subject, the greater became my task, and so in the short time I shall take, I shall only touch on several points, which to me seem of greatest importance.

Many of us are familiar with the saying that "God could not be everywhere, so he made mothers."

Webster tells us in his definition of the word "mother" that it is the female parent, especially of the human race, one who has given birth to a child. While bringing children into the world may give us the title "mother," does it necessarily imply a good mother? True, we love our children and would die for them—the question is, do we live for them as we might?

Some one has told us that a good mother should be healthy, happy, patient, loving and wise; at least one who holds these ideals and is striving to realize them in her daily life.
A big field for us to cultivate, and yet may be summed up in the one word "wise," for the wise mother needs necessarily seek to incorporate all the other virtues.

There are two vital problems which confront the wise or good mother. The first is the study and discipline of herself; the second, the study and discipline of her child. Many of us have had certain ideals, which, when put into practice with our own children, have utterly failed. I know of one mother, who before her marriage had written a number of what appeared to be inspiring articles on obedience

of children, yet when her own children came she found in putting these same theories into practice, the result was not what she had anticipated, for her children today are not the willingly obedient children of her ideal. And why her failure—simple because she not only neglected to take into consideration the child's point of view, but had overlooked the fact that she should have taken stock of herself,
of her patience and self control.

We little realize what a wealth of meaning lies in the old saying "Know thyself" and "He who conquers himself is greater than he who conquers a city," and conquering one's self cannot be applied too strenuously in the training of our children. We know that all teachers are not in school houses. Each mother is a teacher accordingly as she realizes her high calling and each must be her own teacher and trainer before she may hope to teach her child. We have to constantly analyze our own feelings and motives while analyzing those of the child—a herculean task, as the mother of four or more children can testify. For instance, is it fair to the child to interrupt his play to carry out some request of ours, and when he hesitates, to insist on immediate obedience without taking into consideration his reasons for not at once complying, or a child slapped for fret-fulness which might be a sign of impending illness instead of mere perverseness.

It is only in recent years that we have become cognizant of the fact that motherhood, the greatest possible
calling, has been most sadly neglected.
While we train for various professions, teachers, preachers and even for positions in the minor walks of life,
yet motherhood, the greatest possible profession, has been left merely to mothers' intuition, an asset which does not carry us very far especially in the rearing of children.

In my second point, the study and discipline of the child, I feel we can greatly profit by studying the methods used by the various men and women who have made thorough, scientific and practical studies of children, and seek to apply those suggestions which may best fit our individual problem.

In this connection you may find the following books helpful: How to Know Your Child—Miriam Finn Scott; Your Child Today and Tomorrow, and Sons and Daughters—Mrs. Greenberg; Self Training for Motherhood—Sophia Lovejoy, and especially the chapter on moral education in Education, by Spencer.

In the discipline of the child, the factor which has always seemed of greatest importance to me has been the underlying thought of the future manhood or womanhood of the child. The effect of his present training, or lack of it, upon his future welfare. We must realize that our responsibilities do not end with merely clothing and feeding our children, for underlying

Is this the Third Influenza Wave?

Is the type of heavy cold now prevalent a true influenza? Doctors disagree.

It will be remembered that after the terrible epidemics of 1918 and 1919, it was predicted that "waves" of influenza would recur, milder
each time, until humanity should have acquired immunity against the disease.

Science has not yet found the germ, nor medicine the cure. But we have learned better how to avoid influenza, grip and pneumonia.

The value of Vicks as an aid in preventing these diseases is explained below.

Avoid Influenza---Grip---Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection.

Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases
—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only antiseptic, but subfacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and this free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, sipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. Get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel,
so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled.
It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist
such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—It is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery of Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication
direct to these parts was in the form of vapors.
Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses is the U. S. Dispensatory. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensatory on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial.
It is employed for its antiseptic and anesthetic influence in coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPHOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very efficient."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, various forms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful healing, antiseptic properties."

AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY.

Some partisan Democratic newspapers are passing around a statement to the effect that the American soldiers on the Rhine are costing the taxpayers one million dollars a month, and that there is no warrant for the retention of American troops in Germany.

As a matter of fact, the American troops are in Germany under the terms of the Versailles treaty. The cost of maintenance is paid by Germany, not by the United States, and as they are a part of the regular army establishment, whatever the cost is, represents a saving of about that much to the United States treasury.

The withdrawal of the American force has been ordered, and is now in process of being accomplished. Their places will be taken by French troops. The German people much prefer the presence of American soldiers, whose free spending has made that part of Germany prosperous, and whose treatment of civilians has been more considerate than that accorded by troops of other nationalities.

This partisan outcry against the American army of occupation in Germany is in keeping with many other false charges made against the Republican party by unscrupulous politicians, in the absence of real campaign issues.

COMMISSION FORM A FAILURE

There is a good deal of serious talk in Duluth of abandoning the commission form of government, which they have had for a number of years past, and returning to the old aldermanic form. The Civic Council, consisting of representatives of civic clubs of the city, after a thorough investigation, has reported that the commission form of government has failed to be representative of the people, and submitted a plan to return to the aldermanic form. A majority of the members, it was stated, favored a mayor-council plan in which more authority is vested in the mayor. The Duluth Herald, however, has come out in a strong editorial opposing the proposed return to the aldermanic plan.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S COURAGE.

The Fairmont Sentinel, edited by Frank Day, one of the Democratic leaders of the state, thus speaks of President Harding:

"President Harding has done a wise, statesmanlike and courageous act in indorsing the movement for the construction of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway. He had to fly in the face of the fat boys of New York but millions of farmers are behind him and will be pleased that in this matter of such overshadowing importance they have the support of the powers that be."

GRAIN FOR ARMENIA.

Announcement is made in St. Paul that Minnesota farmers planning to make gifts of grain for shipment to Armenia by the Near East Relief organization must have their donations at an elevator ready for shipment by Feb. 20, as the special arrangement with the railroads whereby grain will be shipped free to seaboard will expire Feb. 28.

The fight is fairly on for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, and it promises to be the big thing of the Republican State Convention. The Democrats naturally hope for a mix-up in the convention which would prevent the harmony desired by the Republican leaders, and it is said are quietly lending what aid they can to attain this end.

There is a lady candidate for mayor up in the hustling little city of Bemidji, for the first time in the history of the place. Mrs. Jo McTaggart has filed against two mere men, Mayor A. V. Garlock and Abe Grossman. Mrs. Belle Denley is unopposed as a candidate for re-election to the office of city clerk. The election will be held next Tuesday.

Charley Warner, representative from Aitkin county, has filed for the State Senate from the 54th district, consisting of Aitkin and Carlton counties. L. D. Vibert, of Cloquet, was Senator from that district at the 1921 session of the Legislature.

The Baudette Region says that John Smith, the Cass Lake Indian who died last week at the age of 137, drank and smoked for more than 100 years, but sadly adds, "It was bound to get him in the long run."

Grocers and retail merchants of Minnesota attending their annual convention in Minneapolis this week predicted that 1922 would be one of the biggest years in the history of the association.

Congressman Frank Clague of the Second district, has made it known that he is not a candidate for United States Senator. He prefers to return to Congress.

From the numerous candidates appearing for the Legislature, it is likely there will be many changes in the personnel of both the House and Senate next winter.

The Warroad Pioneer thinks the next Legislature should "devote its time to repealing the laws, instead of making new ones."

COMMUNICATION

If your valued paper will permit, I would like the following published because I believe it would be appreciated by every fair-minded citizen: First of all I want to say that I am a citizen of the U. S. A., a tax payer and obey all laws of the land including the 18th amendment to the Constitution, of this, Our Great Commonwealth.

The writer, like millions of others, is much concerned with the present deplorable condition in our country, caused principally by the manufacture and sale of the so-called moonshine, a poisonous liquor, not fit for human consumption, crime rampant in our country, remains unchecked even though authorities claim to have the matter well in hand. Every newspaper, every day gives many accounts of crime and misery caused by it, and what is it all about? What is a solution of this miserable condition? Let us see! I predict that if the matter was made a national issue, if the people of this country were given an opportunity to vote whether or not our people should be permitted to buy, in a legitimate way, so-called light wine and beer, it would carry by such a large majority that the average pinheaded reformer would never recover from the shock, and once the manufacture and sale of such light wines and beers are permitted, not less than 90% of the illicit manufacture of rotten liquors would automatically stop. I make this prediction because it is not natural for good American citizens to commit a crime unless he is driven to it. I speak of the everyday, good, law-abiding American citizen, men, who are now taken into custody by prohibition enforcement officers, taken to a federal court and unally railroaded to Leavenworth to spend from three months to a year, his family left at the mercy of the community in which they reside and in which they have always lived as respectable citizens.

This may be sneered at by some as nonsense, but examine the records of such cases and you will find that my statements are correct. Where are we going to end up with this thing? What is the result? Larger appropriations are being asked of the government, more federal agents to enforce the Volstead law and by all means, new officers or agents to keep watch of the older heads who are still on the government payroll, but who have learned to make some easy money on the side by doing a little bootlegging themselves, at least that is the story told us by reliable newspapers throughout the country. What do we find in our own little community? Dear reader, don't always look to the green hills far beyond, look into your own little pastures right here under your nose, what's the answer, you will find, if you will young men and women, belonging to some of our so-called (best) families, drunk on our public streets, others who never thought of violating a law, are now making it their principal occupation to find some of the forbidden stuff for their friends and themselves, papers are full of accounts of suicide and murder as a direct result of moonshine and nothing else, and still others completely ruin their health for the rest of their lives, by innocently participating in a little social affair, I ask you, dear reader, why do such conditions exist, there is only one answer, namely, too much bridling of personal liberty, some restrictions, of course, is good, but too much is disastrous.

I say that no sane person will deliberately go out to destroy his or her health, yes, even life for the sake of doing that thing—"Oh, No"—It is simply human nature exercising a natural right it possesses, and human nature can not be changed by laws enacted by man.

The writer wants to see all laws enforced even the Volstead law if it were possible, but this is a serious proposition, moonshine is destroying the health of our nation, undermining our social structure upon which American Citizenship is founded, it can not be stopped unless something is provided in its stead and the legal manufacture and sale of light wines and beer is the only salvation, remember this, and if you do not now believe it, you will in a few short years and as soon as there are enough voters who are going to be real, honest with themselves and others, things will be different. American citizens will not be hiding in a dark alley or basement to consume a lot of poison but he will again be open and above board, stand right up, the son before Father and Mother and the Father and Mother before neighbors to partake of a bit of good, wholesome refreshment, if they desire, and yet be good respectable people.

POULTRY RAISING INTERESTS MANY

Tuesday Meeting of Farm Institute at Chamber of Commerce Was More Largely Attended

W. E. STANFIELD'S ADDRESS

At Noon the Child Welfare Committee of League of Women Voters Served Appetizing Dinner

The Thursday meeting of the Farm Institute which was devoted entirely to the question of poultry raising, judged from the attendance was by far the most popular. At the afternoon session, Stanfield took up the construction of poultry houses illustrating his talk with sketches on the blackboard.

W. E. Stanfield recommends a house with insulated roof on the north side, the roof to have about two feet slant with the opening for ventilation at the highest point on the south side. Sawdust or wild hay may be used for insulation. Artificial heat has not proven successful. The chickens will generate enough heat in their bodies, if provided with good clean grain. Mr. Stanfield advocates a light feed in the morning, a little heavier feeding at noon and the heaviest feed at night.

Windows in the south side should be one-fifth of the area. He allows three square feet floor space for hens and recommends that the floor be dirt floor.

At 12 o'clock, the Child Welfare Committee of the League of Women Voters had prepared a splendid dinner and the tables were completely filled, while many had to wait for the second table. The Hamline Glee club, who gave an entertainment at the Methodist church last night were invited to the dinner and sang two selections. The high school orchestra played during the dinner. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell and her efficient committee are to be congratulated and the only thing to be regretted, is that the roads were in such condition and the weather so cold that the farmers did not attend in as large number as they expected.

At 2 o'clock, the meeting reconvened and L. J. Brosmer gave a wonderful talk on the general subject of poultry raising. Mr. Brosmer came direct from the Oakdale Farms, the farms made famous by Cy Thompson. Mr. Brosmer referred to the many communities where poultry raising had been developed to a large extent and said that invariably their success was due to the fact that they raised but one breed, standardizing in every way; buying their feeds and marketing their eggs as a community. Mr. Brosmer said that it required but 50 pounds of feed to keep a White Leghorn, while it required 70 pounds of feed for the general machine in the world for producing eggs. He referred to the dishonest advertisement in the various publications and emphasized the necessity for knowing the breeder from whom eggs or breed stock was purchased. The dishonest advertiser said Mr. Brosmer, usually illustrates his advertisement with a picture of a hen which he claims has a record of laying 300 or more eggs per year. Imagine one of these places selling 50 or 100 thousand eggs per season and one can figure about how many eggs from this hen each customer received.

All success depends upon the ancestry of the stock, said the speaker. Get good stock with eggs on the inside and good looks on the outside, said he. The speaker then touched upon some of the methods used in preparing birds for the show, such as a bleaching, etc. He referred to the influence of food upon the color of the plumage, giving directions for feed.

Masons Looking for Home

The local members of the Masonic fraternity are figuring on having a home of their own for the meetings of the different Masonic organizations in the city in the near future. A committee from Aurora Lodge, A. F. & A. M., is looking up a desirable location, either to buy a building and remodel it as desired or put up a new building entirely. Several sites are under consideration for building, and it is understood that the purchase of the old court house for the purpose of remodeling it into a modern headquarters for the fraternity has also been considered.

Burnett Sells Residence

C. L. Burnett, the well known Sixth street jeweler, has sold his pretty home at 708 North Sixth street to E. J. Egan, court reporter for Judge McClenahan of the District Court. The price paid, we understand, was $5,600. Mr. Burnett also owns the adjoining lots on the corner, and will build a new residence there this spring.

TAX REVISION ON AUTOMOBILES

C. M. Babcock's Plan is for Tax Based on Actual Market Value, Weight and Power Rating

GASOLINE CONSUMPTION RATE

State Legislature Which Meets Next January May Offer a Solution of the Problem

St. Paul, Feb. 17.—A proposal for state motor vehicle tax schedules was made today by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, following his declaration for revision of present rates. The commissioner comments on gasoline and other tax suggestions and emphasizes the necessity for providing reasonable trunk highway funds if Minnesota is to live up to its rapidly spreading fame as a good roads state. Public dissatisfaction with changes which would curtail highway work will be even greater than that against unfair taxation, he asserts, now that possible car savings and advantages from good roads are being demonstrated.

The most equitable and popular plan in Mr. Babcock's opinion, is that for a tax based on the actual market value, weight and power rating of the motor vehicle and payable in advance, and an additional amount to be based on gasoline consumption and rated at 1 or 2 cents a gallon. Market values can be determined by an established sales reporting service now accepted by the automotive trade, he said, and the gasoline consumption portion of the tax could be collected on gross shipments of oil into the state.

Such an arrangement recognizes the ad valorem tax feature and the principle that wheels should pay toward improvement and upkeep expense in proportion to their use of the highways—combine both property and privilege tax considerations.

Making plain the relation of the highway and automobile-tax laws and commenting on various phases of the tax problem, Commissioner Babcock's statement continues:

"A plan designed to pull 'Minnesota out of the mud' and into the ranks of good roads states was adopted in 1920 by a vote of 526,936 to 199,603 and put into operation last year. At the same time was effected a new method of taxing motor vehicles.

Regardless of first-year results under the new highway program, the motor vehicle tax is provoking widespread and vigorous protest. Car and truck owners again are paying state taxes which in many instances are unfair. A recent court ruling on the tax law was followed by numerous misleading reports.

"There is a maze of conflict, confusion and criticism. Auto tax revisions, gasoline taxes and many other proposals of change are offered. A statement of actual facts and conditions now may help to clear the situation.

"Minnesota's motor vehicle tax law and the state highway development scheme—sometimes called the Babcock Good Roads plan—are entirely separate and distinct, except that the trunk highway fund revenues are partly governed by the yield of the automobile tax. The relationship between them is comparable to that of a big development company to a bank which aids in financing it but is under different management and supervision.

"The highway development plan now is part of the state constitution. One of its provisions authorizes a more onerous tax on motor vehicles, than on other classes of property. Exercising this authority, the legislature of 1921 framed and enacted a law fixing tax schedules according to factory list prices, the possibility of falling prices failing to present itself. The factors of weight and power rating were recommended for consideration by the highway department but were not included in the tax basis as adopted. Mainly because motor vehicle prices have dropped and the owner of a used car is obliged to pay a greater tax on it than is collected on new models of higher value, the tax plan is rightly bringing a storm of protest. Yet there is no blame to be placed for careful, serious study was given the subject in advance of its adoption.

"The remedy lies in revision of the motor vehicle tax law in the state legislature which meets next January. Free discussion in the meantime will tend to bring generally satisfactory results but the cold facts should be kept in mind.

"The state has assumed the construction and maintenance forever of 7,000 miles of main highways which carry probably four-fifths of vehicle traffic. It provided $21,000,000 last year for the remaining roads—light that there is our moral obligation to them.

"WHAT CONSTITUTES A GOOD MOTHER?"

We know that when a request is made of a child and if he is not inclined to obey, that it is far easier for us at the time being to simply let the matter drop than to try to prove to the child that obedience is essential to his happiness. For the wise mother knows that if he is not taught obedience now, he will find it extremely difficult to get along whether it be in school, or college, or in his contact with the world, and if permitted to follow his own inclinations when young, will not have the power of will to deny his many desires or to resist temptation as he grows older.

One mother, a former school teacher, has conducted a Montessori school for children for a number of years, and yet she has absolutely no control, whether through suggestion or otherwise, over her own children. Why, because she has simply carried out the theory of the Montessori system—"All growth must come from a voluntary action of the child himself" without taking into consideration the underlying principle, that of the child's moral responsibilities to those about him.

You may have heard the story of the physician, who in advising a young man barely 21, who came to him in the last stages of a dreadful disease, to confide in his mother and seek her help was told that to him the name mother had proved a curse rather than a blessing. That she was to blame for his downfall and life of misery. That as a child he had known no restriction. Anything that he had ever wanted for had been granted him, his slightest desire had never in the least been curbed and if he did not always get what he wanted at first he knew that by crying and teasing he always got what he was after in the end. And as he grew to manhood he simply followed his impulses, recognized no restrictions, and now it was too late to turn back.

The good mother knows the important part habit plays in our lives, and so at the earliest possible moment seeks to help him form habits which will eventually prove of untold value to him. The child who has been taught from infancy the value of honesty need not fear the temptation of going astray.

The good mother realizes that in order to keep her child unselfish and thoughtful of others, he must be given a certain share of the work in the home. How much more pleasing it is to hear "Mother is tired—I'll do it for her" than "Let mother do it, I want to go out to play." How much more the former expression means to the development of character in the child than the latter.

The good mother need not give up her entire time to the home to the exclusion of personal development. She clearly sees that if she does not keep abreast of her family in their interests, she will not be in a position to be the real companion to her husband and children she needs must be and thus at all times command their reverence and respect.

How often we hear the remark "What's the use of telling mother; she would not understand anyway" rather than "Let's go to mother about it; she'll be sure to help us out. Think of the difference of home conditions these two remarks suggest.

The good mother senses the dangers and pitfalls which may engulf her child, and so early in his development teaches him the truths of life, truths which every child should know and should come from mothers. She realizes that this knowledge imparted by her will forever bring her in closer sympathy with her child and that he will have no hesitancy in coming to her with his confidences.

She will set an example of home life by her patience and virtue and rather than seek her own convenience, will take the knottier and narrower path in order to attain the ultimate good for those dependent upon her. As one of the authors has so aptly put it: "The ideal good mother must be the child's best guide, philosopher and friend. She must be for the child a source of counsel in meeting life's trials, and a refuge from life's tribulations."

The good mother therefore makes the best possible citizen and friend of humanity, for through her influence she is bringing forces into the world who by their example are bound to be a power for good not only to their community but to the nation.

In closing, may I repeat the following poem by Elizabeth Barrett Browning:

I thought a child was given to sanctify A woman—set her in the sight of all, The clear-eyed heavens—a chosen minister

To do their business and lead spirits up

The difficult blue height. A woman lives

Not bettered, quickened toward the truth and good

Through being a mother? Then she's none.

A partnership with God is motherhood What strength, what purity, what self control;

What love, what wisdom should belong to her

Who helps God fashion an immortal soul.

AMUSEMENTS

Barbara Bedford in Second Star Picture

"Winning With Wits," William Fox's stirring story of a girl's fight to save her father from prison, is announced by Manager Hiller of the Lyceum theatre, for tonight only.

Barbara Bedford, hailed as one of the most promising screen actresses of the present day, is seen in the star role. As Mary Sudan, a vivacious young actress who learns, on the eve of her big success in the theatrical world, that her father has been sent to prison, she is said to repeat the display of versatility and winsomeness that made her a favorite in her first Fox vehicle. In her new picture—which is her second as a star—she is called upon to assume the personality of a woman of the world as well as a stage player, and the contrast in her acting of the two roles is reputed to be remarkably fine. She is reported to wear some stunning gowns, and to display notable histrionic ability.

The story, which was written by H. H. Van Loan, is said to be filled with action.

Harold Lloyd and Bebe Daniels are co-stars in a comedy called "By the Sea" showing at the Lyceum tonight also.

Romance of Rural Life

"Home Keeping Hearts," the feature showing Saturday at the Lyceum theatre, depicts the thrilling events in the life of a deep-water diver who has lost honor and reputation in a fatal moment below the surface. He struggles to win back a place among men, aided and abetted by his small daughter, who does not know the shameful secret of her father's past and demands that he prove himself the hero which her childish fancy paints him.

The rapid development of the plot carries the spectators from the river front town where the under water events transpire, through the gloomy corridors of the State's prison, to the beautiful vistas of the great Eastern dairy country of Orange county, New York, where the main threads in this unusual story of faithful hearts and stirring intrigue are woven into a gripping rural drama.

Chas. Chaplin at Lyceum Saturday
Charlie Chaplin will be seen at the Lyceum Saturday in one of the best comedies ever seen. It is entitled "Easy St." Children will be admitted at the matinee for 5c.

ORPHEUM CIRCUIT

Vaudeville at the New Park Theatre Tonight

The four acts of vaudeville at the New Park theatre for this week are direct from the Orpheum circuit, and from all appearances it certainly proves to be one of the best and cleanest bills yet offered. In the first act we have Joseph Smith, who has a singing, talking and musical act de luxe. He is late of the Al. G. Fields and Gus Hill minstrels, so you can certainly assure yourself of a very entertaining 12 minutes as Mr. Smith is especially known for his remarkable versatility in this little sketch of song and dance.

In the second act we have Miss Arlene Pierce, in a refined singing and dancing act. Here is something that is entirely different as well as novel and interesting, and we sincerely believe that Miss Pierce will prove to be one of the most fascinating young women on the stage of today.

Tingley and Younker compose the third act and will present one of the most wonderful musical acts yet staged. They are saxophone artists supreme, and will play all the latest classical numbers in a way that is bound to please both young and old.

The fourth and last act on this exceptional bill is Walter D. Nealand & Co., in a mystifying act entitled "Sawing a Woman in Two." This is indeed the latest craze in vaudeville and will prove to be one of the biggest and best acts yet staged in Brainerd. "Battling Torchy" at New Park Today

Johnny Hines is to be seen at the New Park today only in a new Educational-Torchy comedy called "Battling Torchy," which is heralded as the best picture ever made by the popular "Torchy" of the screen.

The comedy of this picture hinges about a prize fight. "Torchy" planned to have his "double," a young champion, whip the big bully who threatened to steal "Vee's" affections, letting "Torchy" take all the glory. But his plans got mixed up some way, and "Torchy" had to do the fighting himself. The battle is said to provide Hines with perhaps the best background for his humor that he has ever had.

Much of the action of the comedy takes place in a "tough" neighborhood in New York's lower East Side, for which the biggest set ever used in a Torchy comedy was built in the New York studio floor space.

At M. E. Church

Every lover of great pictures has a treat in store in an opportunity to see "The Stream of Life" which will run Saturday and Sunday nights at the Methodist church.

This picture was shown a year ago and enjoyed by over 800 people. It is being shown again as many have asked for its return and to give those who were not so fortunate as to see it an opportunity to do so. This is one of the greatest pictures on the screen of any kind and certainly the greatest religious picture. Its greatness is that it is not overdrawn but considerably true to life and what happens in the life of thousands of young men who leave the farm and go to the city.

Do not fail to see it Saturday night 8:00 p. m. and Sunday night at 7:15 p. m. A silver offering will be taken.

Waited Till the Cows Came Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist, our family doctor sent me to Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated. Luckily I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy then, and although it is now three years since I took a course of it, I have never had a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

last year was 117,000,000 gallons according to the state oil inspector. Consequently, a tax of 5 cents a gallon would have been necessary to produce the sum received from the motor vehicle tax, had gasoline consumption been the tax measure. A gasoline-measured tax will force owners of heavy and big-mileage cars to pay proportionately more to the trunk fund, but also will work to the undue advantage of the owner of an expensive car run a comparatively small distance each year. This is one of many phases deserving attention.

"Evidence that Minnesota people are protesting against tax discrimination alone, and continue generally staunch friends of the good roads plan are most gratifying. They are a big incentive to use best efforts again this season to obtain results showing benefits to be derived on the trunk highway system. The department will be successful, I believe, in demonstrating that money can be more wisely and advantageously used for roads than spent for tires, gasoline and car expense. Fair taxation apparently will remove the last obstacle to Minnesota's move into the ranks of progressive states with adequate public highways."

SALTS IN HOT WATER CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

SAYS WE MUST MAKE KIDNEYS CLEAN THE BLOOD AND PIMPLES DISAPPEAR

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.
